

Celebrate Our Heritage

presented by the Black Heritage Committee

Dr. Conrad W. Worrill

Robert T. Sparks

Dr. Anderson Thompson

The objective of CELEBRATE OUR HERITAGE LECTURE PANEL is to enhance the dialogue among students, faculty and staff of the NEIU community about African-American history. The panelists are from the Jacob Carruthers Center for Inner City Studies. They will share their wealth of knowledge about African American history.

Dr. Conrad W. Worrill “Black History is Everyday”

Robert T. Sparks “In view of the ‘Tea Party’ rhetoric and the continual racial divisions that we see in the political, social and economic sectors of this society, can we really claim that we are now in a ‘post racial’ era?”

Dr. Anderson Thompson “The champions of deep thought. Exploring the intergenerational wisdom of African elders and the African American genealogical family tree.”
