

1. the page should be folded in half, vertically

2. Your reading notes go on this side of the page ONLY

Choose one type of writing utensil for your reading notes (for instance, black pen... or whatever your preference!)

Record important concepts from the reading, organizing your notes so that key terms are easy to find (perhaps underlining them, or using indentations for sub-topics, etc.)

For example, perhaps you will have a section of notes that would be titled IGNEOUS and information about related concepts, and key terms would be recorded here.

Right before class, you should review your reading notes so that you remember what information is here.

If class discussions match what is already here, simply draw an arrow  to indicate the discussion of that concept

3. This side of the page is reserved for your class notes. We will use this side on Tuesday, in class.

Class notes will be entered using a different color/ type of writing utensil!

That way, it is clear what was discussed in class.

Additional concepts that are discussed in class (but were not in your reading notes) will be entered here
