2007-2008 Stage Center Theatre 40th Anniversary Season

Studio Series Presents La Carlotta

Winner of the Ronal Williams Playwriting Competition

Director's Note:

Andrew Behling is the winner of the 2008 Ronald Williams Playwriting Competition, with his La Carlotta. Having the opportunity to direct new work is always a pleasure and a fascinating ride to take. The playwright and the director both bring to life the written work for the awaiting audience, the actors creating their characters based on their vision and the valuable crew help bring it all together. It's the process! Within rehearsals and performances we slowly begin to make new discoveries which we hope ultimately develop the playwrights' work.

La Carlotta reminds us that life isn't always that moment in time, past or future, that we often daydream about. Behling challenges us to wake up and take a look around before its too late!

Ronald Williams 2009 Playwriting Competition

Requirements: Northeastern Illinois University is looking for scripts that will be produced as the final production of the Stage Center Theatre Spring 2009 Studio Series. The script must be an original work and not previously produced by a for-profit organization and not have been published. Staged readings and not-for-profit productions will not disqualify a script.

A playwright may submit more than one entry. The script should be neatly typed with a title page including title, playwright's name, mailing address and phone number. Also, the Application form must accompany the script; the application form is located below.

The Stage Center Theatre staff and reading committee reserve the right to withhold the award if, in their opinion, no entry merits productions.
