

Department of Educational Leadership and Development

Tenure Track Position in Educational Leadership

Start Date: Fall 2024

Rank: Assistant Professor (Tenure Track)

Salary: Commensurate with Qualifications and Experience, includes entry level.

Position: Northeastern Illinois University's Department of Educational Leadership is seeking a full-time, tenure-track faculty member to join the Educational Leadership program in the Department of Literacy, Leadership & Development. The ideal candidate will share the university's commitment to educating a racially, culturally, and socioeconomically diverse student population. Furthermore, the candidate will be committed to reflective, collaborative, and transformative practice.

NEIU faculty strive for racial equality and diversity through scholarship, service, mentorship, and teaching. The ideal candidate will share Northeastern's commitment to educating its racially and socioeconomically diverse student population. Currently, 49% of NEIU's students are Latinx, 9.1% are African-American, 0.1% are Native Hawaiian, 7.2% are Asian-American, 0.2% are Native American, 21% are White, and 1.7% are multiracial.

In 1997, NEIU was designated a Hispanic-serving institution. As such, our incoming faculty should meaningfully reflect on our rich and diverse student competition and be able to articulate how they will contribute to an enriching learning environment that strives for equitable student outcomes.

The University: Northeastern Illinois University (NEIU) is a fully accredited public university serving more than 8,000 full and part-time undergraduate and graduate students in the Chicago metropolitan area. The University offers more than 90 academic programs in the arts, sciences, education and business. It has been regionally and nationally recognized for its student diversity, low student debt, and campus safety. NEIU is a federally designated Hispanic Serving Institution (HSI).

Program: The Educational Leadership Program, in the Department of Literacy, Leadership, Development, and Special Education (SPED) of the Goodwin College of Education offers an M.A. in Educational Leadership. This degree is accompanied by a principal endorsement on the Illinois Professional Educator's License. The endorsement qualifies graduates to be school principals, assistant principals, deans, department chairs, athletic directors, and other related positions.

Responsibilities: The successful candidate will be expected to teach courses in leadership grounded in current research at the main campus, satellite campuses, and at PK-12 school locations. Academic research and service to the department, college, university, and greater community are also required.

Required Qualifications: An earned doctorate in Administration or closely related field from a regionally accredited institution (ABD with completion by 8/1/2024 will be considered). Applicants must also have served as a principal in an elementary, middle or secondary school for at least two years and be PERA certified to evaluate PK-12 teachers and have or be eligible for an Illinois Professional Educator License with the Principal Endorsement or General Administrative Endorsement (formerly named Illinois Type 75). The candidate must be eligible to teach administrative internship classes. NEIU faculty are dedicated to the success of all

Deadline: Screening will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled.

Application: Please send letter of application, CV, educational philosophy, graduate transcripts, a copy of the Illinois Professional Educators License (PEL) and the names of three references (including telephone numbers and e-mail addresses) to:
