FACULTY HIGHLIGHT

Underscore Podcast

Professor Vida Sačić speaks with host Christian Solorzano about using letterpress materials to explore language, process, and meaning-making.

Vida shares her perspective on teaching at NEIU and the importance of being passionate about the work you teach. Together, they also discuss hope and optimism and their roles within creativity and much more.

Underscore is a show produced by the Chicago Graphic Design Club that brings you conversations with Chicago's creative community. On this podcast, we explore the craft, theory, and practice of graphic design, plus discuss ideas that cultivate a more inclusive and thoughtful creative community.

SUMMER COURSE SPOTLIGHT

ART 140: 3D Design

This course is designed to develop students' understanding of three-dimensional thinking and the creation of small three-dimensional artwork. Through a series of class assignments, students explore 3D design concepts and decision-making processes in depth. Basic sculpting techniques and a variety of materials are taught throughout, allowing students to transform their creative ideas into three-dimensional works of art.

ART 333: Mural Painting

Join the NEIU summer mural project, a 6-week course joining with a Chicago neighborhood. Students will develop an understanding of the role of public art by collaborating on the planning, designing, and execution of a painted mural. Never painted before? No Problem! Open to Art and Non-Art majors at all skill levels.
